Illegal Money Lenders: Don't take the bait!

Loan sharks are illegal lenders who often target unsuspecting individuals and families on low income. They may pretend to be a "friend of a friend" but borrowing from them is never a good idea.

How to spot a loan shark

A loan shark may:

- Offer little or no paperwork, such as a license, credit agreement or record of payments.
- Increase the debt or add additional amounts to it without your permission.
- Refuse to give information, such as the interest rate or how much you still owe.
- Take items as security, such as passports, bank cards or driving licenses.
- Not allow you to settle your debt, or get nasty - they may resort to intimidation, threats or violence.

Help

If a lender is operating illegally, it's likely your loan could be written off. Find out what to do if you or someone you know owes money to a loan shark:
